

Residential Landscape Design Solutions

Landscape design was first introduced in 1986 to support our existing clients in their drive to reduce supply chain and operating costs. We have been collaboratively working with architects, developers, planning consultants and main contractors for many years, gaining a reputation for designing fit for purpose innovative schemes.

Our in house Landscape Design team can provide Full Landscape Architecture services to suit your requirements. LDC is a design led business promoting strong, sustainable and cost effective solutions that demonstrate a real understanding of the practicalities of implementing and maintaining landscapes for the future.

LDC work on a multitude of standalone projects as well as providing integrated support to existing clients with our 'seamless solution'. We have a wealth of experience that brings best practice and learning along with the added advantage of drawing upon the skills of our colleagues who collectively have hundreds of years experience between them. With their feedback we have a practical and innovative approach to solving design problems.

Combining your ideas and our experience we can create a computer aided design of your project. With great care and attention to the finest detail we provide you with a beautiful scaled image for you to keep upon project completion. Some more ambitious projects can require Local Authority approval and in this instance we can provide you with a full Architectural service providing you with comprehensive engineering drawings taking care of all the relevant paperwork so you don't have to!

We can also design your garden to suit your lifestyle. If you dream of a mature garden that looks as if it's been growing for years, or an "extra room" for your social occasions, we can create the perfect backdrop. Whether it's a contemporary, minimalist or traditional look you're after, or indeed a combination we can provide you with ideas, inspiration and countless examples of our previous work!

Landscape Design can provide a professional tailored solution for all elements of your landscaping needs. To receive more information and a detailed quotation please call 01506 639950.
